LAWRENCE E. CHEHARDY

CO-MANAGING PARTNER

Lawrence Chehardy is one of the founding members of the firm. For thirty-four years, he also served as the Assessor of Jefferson Parish, and was the leading authority on Louisiana's property tax laws.

Lawrence Chehardy is one of the founding members of the firm. For thirty-four years, Mr. Chehardy also served as the Assessor of Jefferson Parish, and was the leading authority on Louisiana's property tax laws. Mr. Chehardy has testified before numerous legislative committees regarding property tax laws and property tax exemptions.

Always a visible contributor to the Louisiana Assessors' Association, he has served in many key positions including President, Vice-president, and Treasurer of the Louisiana Assessors' Association. He also served on numerous boards and committees of the association. In addition to speaking to numerous local organizations and civic groups, Mr. Chehardy has also been a guest speaker at the American Bar Association's Continuing Legal Education Seminar for lawyers as well as the International Association of Assessing Officers' continuing education seminars.

During his four decade long career, Mr. Chehardy's ability to navigate politics and push forward legislation has brought landmark results. As the principal architect of post-Katrina and post-Rita legislation, his efforts ensured that property owners whose property was damaged as a result of these hurricanes would not be unfairly taxed on the full value of their property but rather on the value of their property in its damaged condition. This legislation has helped significantly with the rebirth and revitalization of those areas devastated by the storms by reducing the property tax burden in those areas. Since 2016, Mr. Chehardy has served as Chairman of the Louisiana Tax Commission.

Outside of his legal and tax career, Mr. Chehardy has extensive knowledge of politics, political campaigning, and the political process. Mr. Chehardy has been instrumental in the election of numerous candidates through endorsements as well as campaign strategy committees regarding property tax laws and property tax exemptions.

James Williams is a nationally recognized trial attorney who has litigated cases in 15 different states, Puerto Rico, and Milan, Italy. Savoy Magazine has named him to their list of the "Top Must Have Lawyers in the Country." He has been named one of the "Top 100 High Stakes Litigators" by the organization that rates America's top 100 attorneys. He is one of the "Nation's Top One Percent" of attorneys according to the National Association of Distinguished Counsel. He has been named a "Super lawyer" by the rating service that recognizes the top 5 percent of lawyers in each state. He has also been selected to the "Top 100 Trial Lawyers" by the American Trial Lawyers Association. He is a fellow of the Litigation Counsel of America, a society to which only one half of one percent (0.5%) of American lawyers are invited to belong. In addition, Williams has been certified as one of the "Top Trial Lawyers in America" by the Million Dollar Advocates Forum.

Mr. Williams has an unprecedented record of success as a high stakes trial lawyer. He has obtained hundreds of millions of dollars for individuals and small businesses. His trial victories have saved companies from financial ruin by stopping runaway jury verdicts in multi-million and multi-billion dollar lawsuits against them. Often referred to as "rescue counsel", Williams is frequently hired as trial counsel to be implanted alongside existing counsel into ongoing high stakes and high value plaintiff and defense litigation. In 2007, at 33 years old and after only eight years of practicing law, an impressive record of courtroom wins caused him to be the youngest of seven lawyers inducted into the inaugural class of the CityBusiness magazine "Hall of Fame". New Orleans Magazine, in their 2017 annual review of the region's top lawyers, made Williams their pick for "Bet – the – Company Litigation."

In 2009-2010, Mr. Williams took a leave of absence from practicing law to serve as the judge (pro tempore) presiding over Division "J" of the Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans. He was unanimously appointed by the Louisiana Supreme Court to fill a vacancy on the court, Williams was only 35 years old at the time, making him the youngest judge in the State of Louisiana.

Mr. Williams also has a reputation for handling high profile litigation in a tasteful and effective way. He has repeatedly demonstrated an ability to achieve legal victories in these cases while strategically working to preserve positive public perception. In 2012, he was lead counsel for Louisiana Supreme Court Chief Justice Bernette Johnson in a civil rights lawsuit she filed when the State of Louisiana attempted to block her ascension to Chief Justice. He argued and won her case before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana and she became the first African-American Chief Justice in the 200-year history of the Louisiana Supreme Court. In 2014, Williams represented Dorian Johnson who was with Michael Brown when he was killed by police officer Darren Wilson in Ferguson, Missouri. That same year, he successfully represented then-United States Senator Mary Landrieu in a challenge to her residency. In 2016, he represented Orleans Parish Sheriff Marlin Gusman in Federal Court against the United States Department of Justice and averted a federal takeover of the Orleans Parish jails. In 2017, Williams represented David Palpus in a highly publicized "freedom of speech" lawsuit in Washington, D.C. because the high school student's contest-winning artwork was removed from its display in the Capitol by a Congressman who disagreed with the content.

Mr. Williams' professional success is matched by his community involvement. Mr. Williams is a past Chairman of the Louisiana State University (LSU) Board of Supervisors, having been unanimously elected by his fellow board members to that position. In 2016, Louisiana Governor John Bel Edwards, pursuant to the authority in Article VIII Section 7 of the Louisiana Constitution, appointed Williams to a six year term on the LSU Board of Supervisors. His subsequent election as Chairman made him the first African-American LSU alum to serve in this role. Governor Edwards reappointed Williams to a second six-year term in 2022. Also in 2016, Congressman Cedric Richmond selected Williams to become the youngest person to ever reign as King of the prestigious Krewe of Louisianans "Washington Mardi Gras." Past Kings have included the legendary Congressman Hon. Hale Boggs (1946), New Orleans Saints owner Tom Benson (1989), famed "Blue Dog" artist George Rodrigue (1994), and shipping magnate Boysie Bollinger (1992 & 2007). In 2008, he donated $50,000 to the National Bar Association local affiliate chapter, Greater New Orleans Louis A. Martinet Legal Society, to commemorate its 50th anniversary. He is also a past president of the Martinet Society. He funds the Louise Halper Award, an annual award in the memory of a dear deceased professor at his alma mater, Washington & Lee University School of Law. The award recognizes a student who publishes a scholarly article in the area of civil rights and social justice. Williams also funded an $80,000 scholarship for a student at "The Good Shepherd School," a privately funded New Orleans school for children living below the poverty line. Williams sponsors a teacher in the "Teach for America" program in New Orleans. He has also been a little league basketball coach and a Sunday School teacher at Tulane Memorial Baptist Church. He served as chapter advisor to the Rho Iota Chapter at Tulane University of his fraternity, Alpha Phi Alpha, General Counsel to the New Orleans alumni chapter (Sigma Lambda) of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, and was an adjunct professor at Tulane University teaching Legal Aspects of Sports.

Mr. Williams received a Bachelor of Science degree from Louisiana State University and his juris doctor degree from Washington & Lee University School of Law. In his third year at Washington & Lee, he was editor-in-chief of the Journal of Civil Rights and Social Justice. As a third year law student, he collaborated with United States Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas on a law journal publication entitled "Civility." As a second year student, he published a journal article analyzing the United States Supreme Court's treatment of the federal sentencing guidelines' disparity between powder cocaine and crack cocaine. In his second year, he was also president of the Black Law Students Association. After law school, Williams served as a law clerk to Louisiana Supreme Court Justice Bernette J. Johnson.

At Chehardy Sherman Williams, Ms. Lee assists businesses with general corporate, employment, human resources, contract, intellectual property (trademark registration), and related company matters.

Jennifer Lee's primary areas of practice at Chehardy Sherman Williams are business law, employment law, and estate planning and successions. Ms. Lee assists businesses with general corporate, employment, human resources, contract, intellectual property (trademark registration), and related company matters. She represents employers responding to employment discrimination charges, including before the EEOC, and acts as virtual in-house counsel to several companies. Ms. Lee also helps individuals with life and estate planning and successions. Her focus for all clients is to prevent, rather than react to, legal issues.

Ms. Lee represents clients ranging from non-profit organizations to small businesses to larger regional and national companies. These represent various industries such as environmental, engineering, construction, landscaping, drone, retail, real estate, marketing, photography, technology, education, and distribution companies. On the non-commercial side, Ms. Lee works closely with individuals on life planning matters such as wills, living wills, trusts, estate planning, and successions.

Before joining Chehardy Sherman Williams, Ms. Lee served for 12 years as in-house counsel at Neill Corporation, a national company based in Hammond, before joining a Northshore business law firm. The Neill Corporation and its affiliates focus on product distribution, furniture and fixture manufacture, service and retail sales, technical education, computer software, real estate, and non-profit activities. In her role as General Counsel, Ms. Lee provided counsel in a variety of areas such as human resources, intellectual property, contracts, corporate governance, project finance, tax incentives, real estate and construction, acquisitions and business start-ups, litigation management, international expansion, and non-profit organization.

Ms. Lee received her Bachelor of Arts from Southeastern Louisiana University and a Juris Doctorate from Louisiana State University's Paul M. Hebert Law Center. She also earned a Master of Business Administration from Louisiana State University's E.J. Ourso College of Business.

FRED HERMAN OF COUNSEL

Fred L. Herman obtained his undergraduate degree from Tulane University in 1972 and graduated from Loyola University School of Law in 1975. He began his career in practice with his father Harry Herman, and his brothers Russ Herman and Maury Herman, before establishing the Law Offices of Fred L. Herman in the spring of 1987. In September 2018, Fred joined the firm of Chehardy Sherman Williams.

Fred L. Herman obtained his undergraduate degree from Tulane University in 1972 and graduated from Loyola University School of Law in 1975. He began his career in practice with his father Harry Herman, and his brothers Russ Herman and Maury Herman, before establishing the Law Offices of Fred L. Herman in the spring of 1987. In September 2018, Fred joined the firm of Chehardy Sherman Williams.

Fred served with his brother Russ as regional litigation counsel for a major Life and Health Insurance company and with brother Maury as litigation and business counsel for the automobile dealerships and banking interests of Tom Benson.

"Working with family was easily the best experience of my career," recalls Fred. "I gained a great understanding of the client attorney relationship from my father Harry. I handled everything from misdemeanor cases in Municipal Court to major Construction litigation and everything in between."

He began to put his extensive and varied experience to work building the Fred L. Herman Law Firm. He has been recognized by his peers and the Judiciary, including SUPER LAWYERS, BEST LAWYERS AND MARTINDALE HUBBEL for having the highest ethical standards and outstanding legal ability.

His litigation and appellate practices have taken him to almost every Parish and Judicial District in Louisiana and to Federal Courts in Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, New York and Washington, D.C. Highlights of business practice include serving as Chief Negotiator to help Tom Benson acquire the New Orleans Saints, and was part of the original ownership group of the Saints put together by Mr. Benson. Thereafter, he represented Rob Couhig in the sale of his interest in the New Orleans Zephyrs, which later became the Baby Cakes, the city's AAA minor league baseball team. Fred also handled all aspects of a regional highway safety and traffic control business for a New York Stock Exchange multi-national company. He had the pleasure of representing the Sewell Automotive Group and Carl Sewell's New Orleans interests.

During the last 30 years, the need for experienced counsel to address insurance coverage issues has led a number of prominent businesses to seek Fred's advice and litigation skills where necessary to enforce policyholder rights in serious property damage and injury claims. Fred has taught and lectured at Loyola University School of Law Skills Curriculum and the Tulane School of Law Trial Advocacy seminar. With extensive experience in government administration, he has represented the City Council and the Office of Mayor for the City of New Orleans, the Orleans Parish Board of Assessors, the Orleans Parish District Attorney and the Clerk of Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans. He is recognized for his consummate skills in crisis management, which served his clients well in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina in 2005.

FRED HERMAN OF COUNSEL

Following Hurricane Katrina, Fred was part of the litigation team that successfully litigated against the bad faith insurance practices of Louisiana Citizens Insurance, resulting in a Judgment and settlements in excess of $120 million. The case proceeded to the U.S. Supreme Court and is one of the largest recoveries in the history of bad faith insurance penalties.

Fred is also recognized for his extensive experience as a court-appointed Special Master and is an active Arbitrator and Mediator in civil disputes, including employment law, discrimination, construction claims, environmental and asbestos cases and all complex litigation, mass joinder and class action. He has been appointed independently and through the panels of the AMERICAN ARBITRATION ASSOCIATION (AAA) and AMERICAN HEALTHCARE LAWYERS ASSOCIATION (AHLA). He is and is a member in good standing in the ACADEMY OF COURT APPOINTED SPECIAL MASTERS.

Fred is a member of The American Bar Association, The Louisiana Banker's Association – Bank Lawyer's section, the Federal Bar Association, and New Orleans and Jefferson Parish Bar Associations. Fred is also a member of the American Bar Association, American Association for Justice and its state counterpart, the Louisiana Association for Justice. Fred is a member in good standing and licensed by the Louisiana State Bar Association and is admitted to practice in all Louisiana State Courts, United States Federal Courts in Louisiana and the Supreme Court of the United States.

Clark G. Warden, MD, JD, FACS is a native New Orleanian who joined the Chehardy Sherman Williams firm in 2016 in order to provide invaluable insight and guidance to the firm's clients in the medical field. As a practicing surgeon for over 27 years, he has had extensive experience in various aspects of the healthcare delivery system and the resultant legal implications. He has had personal experience in most aspects of healthcare law including employment, insurance, medical staff and malpractice issues. He also has experience in building and managing medical offices, ambulatory surgical centers and surgical specialty hospitals. This broad experience in multiple aspects of healthcare law, in addition to continuing to practice as a surgeon, gives him a unique perspective on the legal challenges that healthcare professionals face on a daily basis.

Dr. Warden received his B.S. in Engineering with Honors in Biomedical Engineering from the Tulane University School of Engineering and his medical degree from Tulane University School of Medicine. He completed a surgical residency at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1989 and is board certified in General Surgery and Surgical Critical Care and is a Fellow of The American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Warden currently practices surgery with the Surgical Specialists of Louisiana, whom he joined in 2003 after he spent 14 years in South Mississippi building the leading general surgery practice in the region. He currently specializes in laparoscopic bariatric surgery. Dr. Warden is a Clinical Instructor in the Department of Surgery at Tulane Medical School and additionally, he is a national proctor who teaches and credentials other bariatric surgeons.

Dr. Warden has served in many medical leadership positions on the local, state, and national level including Medical Director of Southern Surgical Hospital, Chairman of the Department of Surgery and Chief of Staff of Singing River Hospital, the American College of Surgeons Cancer Liaison Physician for the state of Mississippi, President of the Mississippi State Medical Association Young Physicians Section and delegate to the AMA Young Physicians Section. He also served as the Chairman of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce.

As an experienced surgeon, Dr. Warden has also been recognized by his peers and in multiple publications for excellence in surgery, including Best Doctors in America, Guide to America's Top Surgeons and New Orleans Magazine Top Doctors in Surgery. In 2017, Dr. Warden was admitted as a Fellow of the American College of Legal Medicine.
