Patent Infringement Litigation

Practice Concentration & Experience Summary:

Since beginning the practice of law in 1999, I have handled a wide range of civil litigation and appellate work in venues throughout Louisiana. I have successfully mediated first-party property damage cases filed in state court and federal court as both an appointed neutral and as a selected neutral. I have broad experience in the defense and management of complex litigation, including class action and mass joinder lawsuits. In particular, I have defended cases of alleged liability for environmental contamination to property; alleged exposure to various substances, including NORM, benzene, DBCP, and carbon monoxide; alleged liability for climate change; alleged liability for wetlands destruction; and alleged liability for physical property damage. My legal experience also includes the drafting of contracts and advising clients on environmental regulatory issues, including representation before regulatory agencies. Moreover, as a registered patent attorney who focuses entirely on litigation, I have been able to bring these skills together in patent infringement lawsuits. I take particular pride in participating in the successful resolution of lawsuits involving multiple parties and complex legal issues with favorable results.

Other Professional Experience:

Liskow & Lewis, Associate Attorney, 2000-2005.

Louisiana State Supreme Court, Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable Jeffrey P. Victory, Associate Justice, 1999-2000.

- I was responsible for analysis of writ applications to the Louisiana Supreme Court, and providing recommendations to the Court. I also drafted, revised, and edited proposed Opinions, Dissents, and Concurrences in cases under the direction of Justice Victory. I conducted necessary research and provided legal analysis.

Tiger Shipyards, Inc., a subsidiary of National Marine, Environmental Manager, 1995-1996.

- I was responsible for all aspects of environmental regulatory compliance for a shipyard.

Avondale Shipyards, Inc., Environmental Compliance Specialist, 1994-1995.

- I was responsible for certain aspects of environmental regulatory compliance for a large shipyard. Specifically, I developed a waste minimization program and obtained several grants for environmental projects.

Environmental Industrial Research Associates, Inc., a subsidiary of Chemfix Technologies, Inc., Environmental Chemist, 1991-1994.

- I was responsible for sample intake, preparation, and analysis of various media for environmental testing.

Military Experience:

United States Coast Guard Reserve, Port Security, Second Class Petty Officer, 1988-1998, Honorable Discharge.

- I was responsible for regulatory inspections of vessels (barges and foreign cargo ships) and facilities, and for the investigation of pollution incidents.

Practice Concentration & Experience Summary:

Ms. Johnson been actively involved in complex toxic tort, class actions, casualty, premises liability, occupational exposure, CERCLA cost recovery and environmental insurance coverage litigation for over three decades. She has substantial experience in both the trial and appellate levels in litigating mass joinder and class action cases involving allegations of exposure to chemicals, environmental contaminants, asbestos and naturally occurring radioactive materials (NORM), and has been involved in numerous Daubert hearings in state and federal courts. Ms. Johnson successfully handled multiple property damage cases filed after Hurricane Katrina alleging damage from flooding due to oil spills and other discharges. She is currently handling a number of significant sinkhole, pipeline, chemical exposure, radiation, “fear of cancer”, and other property damage cases. Ms. Johnson has particular expertise in defending “executive officers” from a variety of companies in asbestos litigation throughout Louisiana, and she also represents numerous employers, refineries, chemical plants, oil companies, papermills, shipyards, and other industrial facilities in matters involving alleged injuries to both workers and nearby residents. She has authored numerous papers on toxic tort, expert witnesses, environmental, insurance, and other issues, including Chapter 23 in the Louisiana Environmental Handbook, “Insurance Coverage for Pollution Damage Claims,” with G.B. Hall (1992-2001).
