TMC Tables Specifications

General – TMC Furniture' tables are designed to give the customer a wide variety of options to construct a semi-custom look which can link with other TMC products. Tops are available in a wide range of sizes and shapes, including round, square, rectangular, trapezoid, triangle, half- and three-quarter-round, crescent, racetrack, oval, and boat. Many different edge treatments are available; the most commonly selected options are vinyl t-mold, 1/8" edgeband and 1-1/4 solid wood edge. Standard table heights have been developed to match to our seating system.

Worksurface – The work surface is roughly 1-1/4" thick with a 3-ply construction of: 1) 1-1/8", 45 lb. premium particleboard, 2) surface material using a .05" horizontal grade high-pressure laminate from Formica, Nevamar, Pionite or Wilsonart (other face material such as maple, oak or cherry wood veneer, linoleum or Corian are also available), and 3) a full .05" phenolic backer on the underside. Nut inserts are added to the underside of the table to allow the legs to be attached using metal-to-metal connections; nut inserts must be for 1/4" 20 standard screws.

Edge Treatment –

Solid Wood Edge is composed of 1-1/4" wide x 1-1/4" thick solid Maple with a 1/2" radius on the top and an eased bottom edge (other edge profiles are also available); the Wood Edge is applied after the laminate worksurface creating a "frame" effect; bands are set flush to the table surface and corner edges can be mitered;

Table Legs – Standard table heights are: 29"TH for 18"SH adult chairs, 26"TH for 16"SH chairs, 24"TH for 14"SH chairs, and 20"TH for 12"SH chairs. Table legs are designed to link to the various chair lines that TMC Furniture offers. The table legs lines include:

- Kestrel (Wood) Leg – The leg assembly consists of a squared and tapered 2-7/8" x 2-7/8" at top and 1-7/8" x 1-7/8" at bottom, a 5" x 5" square top plate, and a concealed adjustable level feature. The legs are constructed of premium northern hard maple. A 3/16" thick top plate is fastened to the wood leg using a unique UHMW rod inserted 1-1/2" from the top of the leg; four screws extend through the top plate and leg into the rod to capture the leg securely. The top plate is drilled for fasteners and the holes are counter-sunk for flush mounting with metal insert. A hidden, adjustable glide is inserted into the leg bottom with a glide screw which has .25" stem and is 1.25" in length. The wood leg goes through a three-step sanding process which ends with a final orbital sand at 180 grit. A variety of transparent stains, opaque paints and toners (a mixture of stain and opaque) can be applied. A seal coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is applied and, after drying, is hand-sanded with 220 grit sand paper. A final coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is then applied to a 10 sheen. The steel plate is attached to the work surface by means of 5/16" screws which fasten to threaded metal inserts embedded in the work surface. The legs are set back 2" to 2-1/2" from the edge of the work surface.
- Lorca (Metal) Leg – The leg is constructed of a 2" diameter steel tube leg, a 4" x 4" top plate, and a glide with adjustable level feature. The legs are constructed of 14 gauge, cold-rolled, commercial quality tubing. A 3/16" steel top plate is offset and welded to the leg tube; the top plate is drilled for fasteners and the holes are counter-sunk for flush mounting with metal insert. Glide plate is welded to the interior of the tube bottom with grip-serve faster for the glide screw which has .25"/20 stem and is 1.25" in length. Parts are then electrostatically coated with an epoxy powder to a thickness of 3 to 5 mil dry paint film; a wide variety of powdercoat colors is available, along with chrome and brushed steel options. The steel plate is attached to the work surface by means of 5/16" screws which fasten to threaded metal inserts embedded in the work surface. The legs are set back 1.75" from the edge of the work surface. The glides manufactured of hard maple turned to match the Lorca chair glide in design; they are available in black, red, blue, yellow and gray. Glides must be at least 3.1" in diameter and 1.75" in height on the exterior in order to properly secure the glide to the leg as well as to allow for design impact. The glides are sanded with 150 grit sand paper and finished using a three-step process to sand, paint and seal them. A 1.25" diameter nylon adjustable leveler is hidden in the glide.

TMC Chair Specifications

Lorca Chair

Chair Shell – Shells are constructed of molded plywood to form a seat and back. The shell's veneer faces must be northern hardwood maple which has been rotary cut (peeled from the log in one continuous movement); shells are .41" thick and composed of 8 layers of ply. Wood has controlled sterilization for 48 hours. The veneer is dried between 6% to 9% relative humidity. The shell is pressed by a High Frequency process using state-of-art generators with automatic control for power level, analysis of reversals (to avoid over-heating) and total electronic control for RF / Stabilization cycles. The temperature is controlled to ensure that even curing of the plywood occurs while the high-pressure presses force the adhesive deep into the cellular structure of the wood, improving the bond and increasing the strength between the layers. After leaving our presses, the shells are left to rest on specially adapted frames in order to avoid any warping of the wood and to ensure an optimal stability concerning shape and dimension. The shell is then cut on a CNC 6-axis machine. The shell veneer and edges are sanded and smoothed to final grain of 180 grit. Before leaving the factory, every shell undergoes a resistance test to make sure we catch any hidden, structural defects; a force is applied perpendicularly to the back of the shell 13-3/4" above the seat for 4 seconds. Quality control makes a final visual inspection to catch any last veneer or manufacturing defects. The face veneer color must be unspliced, light and uniform. Plywood shells cannot have any: knots, splice lines, splits, cracks, flaws caused by parasites, unwanted discoloring (red coloring, mold, heat marks, blue marking), open joints, blistering, hollows, bumps or marks, breaks (a break in the first layer of wood lets the second layer show through), traces of glue, foreign bodies, filling or patching on outer surfaces, raw edges.

Cut-Outs – Plywood chair shells can be laser cut with a variety of decorative patterns and perimeters. Chair back cut-outs must be formed with a computer numeric controlled laser beam running at a minimum of 400 watts and set to a beam diameter of .007 of an inch – this narrow beam dimension allows for a very detailed shaping of the wood, while ensuring a cleanly cut product. Any cut-out formed with a cutting tool having a diameter larger than .007 of an inch is unacceptable. Cut-outs must be blackened where the wood has been cut through; this is required in order to highlight the design's shape and set it in contrast to the rest of the chair. Blackening by the use of paint is not acceptable since its edges cannot appear as even as the laser CNC controlled process; additionally, the density of the black cannot be properly controlled when paint is used. Cut-outs formed with a router are unacceptable – routers are unable to cut .007 of an inch in diameter and router cuts do not blacken the cut-through plywood. All cut-outs included in TMC Furniture Cut-Out Portfolio are developed, designed and copyrighted by TMC Furniture and they remain the exclusive property of TMC Furniture.

Finishing – All shells go through at least a four-step sanding process. The veneer is pre-sanded to 100 grit prior to lay-up. After the molded shells are perimeter cut, they are bag-sanded to remove any burrs or sharp edges. The perimeter is sanded with bag sander at 80 grit and then the surface and edges all get a final orbital sand with 180 grit. TMC Furniture finishes chairs with a variety of transparent stains, opaque paints and toners (a mixture of stain and opaque). A seal coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is applied and, after drying, is hand-sanded with 220 grit sand paper. A final coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is then applied to a 10 sheen.

Fasteners – Each chair shell is prepared for the fasteners with four spot faces on the seat bottom. Four 1.8" diameter hard Maple disks with internally mounted nut fasteners are attached to the chair bottom with thermoset urethane adhesive. The spot faces disks must be cross-grain cut from a solid dowel and positioned on the shell so that the end grain of the disk rests against the plywood face of the shell – disks made from plywood are unacceptable and non-cross-grain cut disks or solid maple disks mounted with the grain running parallel to the plywood face are unacceptable (both are liable to separate or tear-out more easily). Each of these four fasteners must be able to withstand a direct pull test of 500 lbs. The chair is attached to the shell with ¼" 20 screw.

Metal Base – The metal base is constructed of 7/8" diameter, 16 gauge cold-rolled, commercial quality tubing. Tubes are bent and a center ¼" bead weld is applied that is 1-1/2" long. Each rectangular mounting tabs is welded with 2" long, ¼" bead weld – non-rectangular or triangular mounting tabs are unacceptable. The bases are thoroughly cleaned with an acid wash. Parts are then electrostatically coated with an epoxy powder to a thickness of 3 to 5 mil dry paint film.

Task Base – The task base is constructed of 25" diameter, 5 legged composite in the color black.. It has a hub of 50 mm and the radius from the center of the hub to the outside of the legs is 13.97". The caster barrel diameter is 1.77" and has standard caster sockets of .43" x .98", with a base height of 2.55". Height adjustments are made via hand lever. There is a 50mm gas cylinder with 5.5" of travel and the top taper is 17-4. The base exceeds all applicable ANSI/BIFMA Standards.

Glides – Super-tough nylon glides cap the tube ends and form the feet of the chair. The glides are available in black, red, blue, yellow and gray. Glides must be at least 1.3" in diameter to allow for easy movement over carpeting and solid surface floors; small glides are unacceptable since they will make it difficult for a child to slide the chair. Additionally the glide must be a minimum of .75" in height on the exterior in order to properly secure the glide to the leg, to make sure it will not catch on carpeted surfaces as well as to maximize the design impact.

Dimensions – The child's chair is built with a wide and deep stance to make it stable. The chair is available in four seat heights – 12", 14", 16" and 18"

Lorca Stool

Stool Seat – Wooden stool seats are 14" in diameter and are constructed of premium 1" thick hardwood die board plywood and are surfaced on both sides with a select white, rotary-cut northern hardwood maple veneer. Plys are all .05" thick and are of high grade and free of voids and other defects – both at the edge and internally. The plywood seat is notable for its strength and ability to hold fastener systems; seats made of particleboard, MDF or other materials are unacceptable. The veneer is dried between 6% to 9% relative humidity. The veneer is then selected and quality control once again inspects the sheets for relative humidity, thickness, quality, etc. before transferring the veneer to the press. The temperature is controlled to ensure that even curing of the plywood occurs while the high-pressure presses force the adhesive deep into the cellular structure of the wood, improving the bond and increasing the strength between the layers. The seats are cut and bored on a CNC 5-axis machine to ensure exact placements of holes in relation to legs and understructure. The seat veneer and edges are sanded and smoothed to final grain of 180 grit. Before leaving the factory, every seat undergoes a resistance test to make sure we catch any hidden, structural defects. Quality control makes a final visual inspection to catch any last veneer or manufacturing defects. Plywood veneer cannot have any: knots, splits, cracks, flaws caused by parasites, unwanted discoloring (red coloring, mold, heat marks, blue marking), open joints, blistering, hollows, bumps or marks, breaks (a break in the first layer of wood lets the second layer show through), traces of glue, foreign bodies, filling or patching on outer surfaces, raw edges.

Finishing – All seats go through at least a four-step sanding process. The veneer is pre-sanded to 100 grit prior to lay-up. After the seats are cut, they are bag-sanded to remove any burrs or sharp edges with 80 grit paper and then the surface and edges all get a final orbital sand with 180 grit. TMC Furniture finishes wood stools with a variety of transparent stains, opaque paints and toners (a mixture of stain and opaque). A seal coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is applied and, after drying, is hand-sanded with 220 grit sand paper. A final coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is then applied to a 10 sheen.

Metal Base – The metal base is constructed of 7/8" diameter, 16 gauge cold-rolled, commercial quality tubing. Tubes are bent and a center ¼" bead weld is applied that is 1-1/2" long. Each rectangular mounting tabs is welded with 2" long, 1/4" bead weld – non-rectangular or triangular mounting tabs are unacceptable. The bases are thoroughly cleaned with an acid wash. Parts are then electro statically coated with an epoxy powder to a thickness of 3 to 5 mil dry paint film.

Dimensions – The child's stool is built with a 14" wide and 14" deep stance (for the 16" SH stool), which makes it much more stable and safe than children's stools with narrower stance. The stool is available in three seat heights for kids – 12", 14" and 16" – to more closely tailor it to a growing child's ergonomic needs; stools that are available only in 13" and 15" seat heights are not acceptable substitutes. The adult seat heights are 18", 24", or 30".

Couture Collection

General – The Couture chair is available in various models: Adelle, Alphonso Mona, Sasha, and Napoleon. Bar and counter heights are available as well as a seat pad option for these chairs.

Chair Shell – Shells are constructed of molded plywood to form a seat and back. The shell's veneer faces must be northern hardwood maple, which has been rotary cut (peeled from the log in one continuous movement); shells are .45" thick and composed of 9 layers of ply. This shell thickness and the number of plys are consistently stronger than shells using less than 9 plys – chair shells manufactured with 8 or few plys are not acceptable substitutes. Wood has controlled sterilization for 48 hours. The veneer is dried between 6% to 9% relative humidity. The shell is pressed using a unique thermal heat process with state-of-art generators with automatic control for power level, analysis of reversals (to avoid over-heating) and total electronic control of stabilization cycles. The temperature is controlled to ensure that even curing of the plywood occurs while the high-pressure presses force the adhesive deep into the cellular structure of the wood, improving the bond and increasing the strength between the layers. After leaving the press, the shells are left to rest on specially adapted frames in order to avoid any warping of the wood and to ensure an optimal stability concerning shape and dimension. The shell is then cut on a CNC 6-axis machine. The shell veneer and edges are sanded and smoothed to final grain of 180 grit. Before leaving the factory, every shell undergoes a resistance test to make sure we catch any hidden, structural defects; a force is applied perpendicularly to the back of the shell 13-3/4" above the seat for 4 seconds. Quality control makes a final visual inspection to catch any last veneer or manufacturing defects. The face veneer color must be un-spliced, light and uniform. Plywood shells cannot have any: knots, splice lines, splits, cracks, flaws caused by parasites, unwanted discoloring (red coloring, mold, heat marks, blue marking), open joints, blistering, hollows, bumps or marks, breaks (a break in the first layer of wood lets the second layer show through), traces of glue, foreign bodies, filling or patching on outer surfaces, raw edges.

Perimeter Cut-out/Etching – Uses the same shells and processes as cutouts, but is cut on the perimeter of the shell as well as the interior surfaces. Perimeter cutting also uses a process called etching to add defining black lines to characterize certain cutout patterns. These etchings are cut on both sides of the shell requiring two totally different machine set-ups to acquire the intended effect. Perimeter cutouts and etching give the appearance that the cutout is a part of the chair itself.

Finishing – All legs and shells go through at least a four-step sanding process. The veneer is pre-sanded to 100 grit prior to lay-up. After the molded shell and legs are perimeter cut, they are bag-sanded to remove any burrs or sharp edges with 80 grit paper and then the surface and edges all get a final orbital sand with 180 grit. TMC Furniture finishes chairs with a variety of transparent stains, opaque paints and toners (a mixture of stain and opaque). A seal coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is applied and, after drying, is hand-sanded with 220 grit sand paper. A final coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is then applied to a 10 sheen.

Fasteners – Each chair shell is prepared for the fasteners with four spot faces on the seat bottom. Four 1.8" diameter hard Maple disks with internally mounted nut fasteners are attached to the chair bottom with thermo set urethane adhesive. The spot faces disks must be cut so that the end grain of the disk rests against the plywood face of the shell – disks made from plywood are unacceptable and solid maple disks mounted with the grain running parallel to the plywood face are unacceptable (both are liable to separate or tear-out more easily). Similarly, fasteners that merely screw into the chair shell – commonly referred to as “bayonet” fasteners – do not offer enough contact area and are liable (even when adhesive is used) to pull off; these small metal bayonet fasteners are not acceptable substitutes. Each of these four fasteners must be able to withstand a direct pull test of 500 lbs. The chair is attached to the shell with ¼” 20 screw.

Metal Understructure – A metal understructure joins the four solid maple legs and then allows the legs to be fastened to the shell; this creates a very strong and stable chair by reinforcing all the key leg components as well as lowering the center of gravity of the chair, making it more stable and less liable to tipping. The understructure is constructed of 7/8” diameter, 12 gauge cold-rolled, commercial quality tubing. Tubes are bent and a center ¼” bead weld is applied that is 1-1/2” long; this metal understructure has four angle-iron corners that allow the base to securely fasten to the four Maple legs. Four rectangular mounting tabs are welded with 2” long, ¼” bead welds. The bases are thoroughly cleaned with an acid wash. Parts are then electro statically coated with an epoxy powder to a thickness of 3 to 5 mil dry paint film. The legs are specifically cut to fit snugly against the chair’s bottom surface. Leg parts are sanded to 150 legs are attached to the metal understructure with wood screws and thermo set urethane adhesive.

Solid Maple Legs – Four molded solid maple legs form the base of the chair. The leg consists of a squared and tapered 2-1/8” x 2-1/8” at top and 1-1/8” x 1-1/8” at bottom, a concealed metal understructure (described above) joins the legs. The legs are constructed of premium northern hard maple with one seam along the centerline of each leg. Each leg is bored at least 4” deep to accommodate the hidden metal understructure stem – this hidden steel tube stem adds greatly to the strength of each leg. Legs are fastened to the understructure with thermo set urethane adhesive. The wood leg goes through a three-step sanding process, which ends with a final orbital sand at 180 grit. A variety of transparent stains, opaque paints and toners (a mixture of stain and opaque) can be applied. A seal coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is applied and, after drying, is hand-sanded with 220 grit sand paper. A final coat of pre-catalyzed lacquer is then applied to a 10 sheen. Quality control makes a final visual inspection to catch any last veneer or manufacturing defects. Concealed nylon glides are attached to the bottom of each chair leg. Glides must be at least .6” in diameter to allow for easy movement over carpeted or solid surface floors.

Dimensions – The Chair is built 18” wide and 20.5” deep with an 18” seat height and a 34” overall height. The Counter Chair is 18” wide and 20.5” deep with a 24” seat height and a 39.5” overall height. The Bar Chair is 18” wide and 20.5” deep with a 30” seat height and a 45.5” overall height.

Kestrel Task Chair

Chair Shell – Shells are constructed of molded plywood to form a seat and back. The shell’s veneer faces must be northern hardwood maple, which has been rotary cut (peeled from the log in one continuous movement); shells are .41” thick and composed of 8 layers of ply. Wood has controlled sterilization for 48 hours. The veneer is dried between 6% to 9% relative humidity. The shell is pressed by a High Frequency process using state-of-art generators with automatic control for power level, analysis of reversals (to avoid over-heating) and total electronic control for RF / Stabilization cycles. The temperature is controlled to ensure that even curing of the plywood occurs while the high-pressure presses force the adhesive deep into the cellular structure of the wood, improving the bond and increasing the strength between the layers. After leaving our presses, the shells are left to rest on specially adapted frames in order to avoid any warping of the wood and to ensure an optimal stability concerning shape and dimension. The shell is then cut on a CNC 6-axis machine. The shell veneer and edges are sanded and smoothed to final grain of 180 grit. Before leaving the factory, every shell undergoes a resistance test to make sure we catch any hidden, structural defects; a force is applied perpendicularly to the back of the shell 13-3/4” above the seat for 4 seconds. Quality control makes a final visual inspection to catch any last veneer or manufacturing defects. The face veneer color must be un-spliced, light and uniform. Plywood shells cannot have any: knots, splice lines, splits, cracks, flaws caused by parasites, unwanted discoloring (red coloring, mold, heat marks, blue marking), open joints, blistering, hollows, bumps or marks, breaks (a break in the first layer of wood lets the second layer show through), traces of glue, foreign bodies, filling or patching on outer surfaces, raw edges.

TMC Whistler Lounge Collection Specifications

General – TMC's Whistler Lounge Collection is a modular seating system; the product line includes chair, settee, sofa, bench, and table modules in straight sections and inner and outer wedges that can be ganged to form numerous seating configurations. Side panels allow the seating to be customized with laser cut-out designs and laminate inserts or fabric-covered panels.

Back – The back is incorporated into a composite frame. A woven 3.5" polypropylene webbing with high-rating PSI is applied tautly to the back portion of the frame to support the back pad. The back cushion is made of high-density urethane foam with a minimum foam density of 1.8 pounds and an IFD of 20-40 pounds.

Seat – The Whistler seat is incorporated into a composite frame. A woven 3.5" polypropylene webbing is applied tautly over an opening in the deck to enhance seating comfort. The deck is topped with a cushion made of high density polymeric urethane foam with a minimum density of 1.8 pounds and an IFD of 20-40 pounds. The sides are wrapped in ½" thick Dacron Microfill polyester.

Frame – The Whistler frame is divided into two sections, the deck and the back. This allows for two-tone upholstery applications. The frame is constructed of 1" hardwood plywood. The two sections of the frame are mechanically attached and can be separated for easy upholstery replacement. Legs are a 4" die-cast brushed aluminum with a 5/6" high-impact/wear WHMD plastic glide. Legs are mechanically attached to the underside of the deck.

Mechanical Attachments – The Whistler's back/frame connection incorporates six ¼"-20 machine bolts with split lock washers into threaded t-nuts connect the back frame to the deck. Wood dowels, glue and wood screws secure both the deck and the back frames. When requested, a ganging device can be attached in the factory (for ease of installation). The ganging device consists of a 10-gauge, cold-rolled steel plate and is mechanically secured to the underside of the deck. The ganging device also allows chairs to be more securely attached in the field by using two ¼"-20 screws to mechanically fasten them together.

Cushion Attachments – As a key feature of the Whistler, back and seat cushions are permanently bonded to the frame. A single fabric cover envelops both cushions and the frame. Since the frame is constructed in two sections, it is possible to have a two-tone upholstery application. Chairs are constructed to have a gracefully hidden hem that does not require other devices for concealment.

Filling Materials – All TMC foams are flame-retardant to meet BIFMA and well-known state fire codes such as the California Fire Bulletin 117. TMC also offers special treatments, materials and fabrics, which allow our furniture to meet the Boston, New York Port Authority codes as well as California Technical Bulletin Number 133.

Fabric Attachments – TMC upholstered products have the option to be constructed with hook and loop removable coverings; this option is provided for installations that require convenience for frequent removal, cleaning and/or replacement of covers. Unless this option is requested, our standard upholstery systems attach with a fixed fastener system, which still provides for convenient removal and re-upholstery, but is more difficult to tamper with.

Channel Caps - TMC Whistler Lounge furniture does not require any channel caps; the Whistler does not have spaces where children might hide or become stuck.

Stitching - All seams are double-stitched and then topstitched for maximum strength.

Waterproofing - TMC polymeric urethane foam includes a layer of waterproof polyurethane membrane to protect against spills.

Assembly & Disassembly - Each Whistler unit is shipped fully assembled. If selected, a ganging device is added at the factory, and tools are not needed to gang units together. If a semi-permanent ganging configuration is desired, then (as described earlier) two additional screws are used to lock the ganged chairs together – a Philips-head screwdriver is the only tool required to do this.

Estey Welded Frame specifications

*TO MATCH AND INTERMEMBER WITH EXISTING JEFFERSON PARISH LIBRARY SHELVING

DESIGN:

Shelving is a cantilever design. The bookstack section may be removed as a modular unit from any range without disturbing adjacent units in any way. Relocation and reuse of removed section(s) can be accomplished without acquiring additional parts. The uprights and cross member supports make up the fully welded frame construction, and allow for adjustable base shelf with kickplate. Uprights are punched for bolting additional Weld Frame units into the bookstack range. Shelving design allows for either static or mobile installation.

MATERIAL AND WORKMANSHIP:

The shelving is made from only the finest materials and workmanship. All sheet metal is commercial quality furniture stock steel, hot & cold rolled, reannealed, fully pickled or equivalent. All gauge thickness must conform to U.S. standards.

CAPACITY REQUIREMENTS:

Each shelf has a minimum clearance between end brackets of 35 13/32". Unit widths are 36" nominal overall. When properly installed, units are capable of supporting 50 lbs. evenly distributed weight per linear foot of shelving, multiplied times the number of shelves per unit, without deflection considered excessive by industry standards.

COLOR:

Shelving is available in standard Estey colors, including "Pearl Gray".

FINISHES:

Shelving colors are as described above, with an epoxy powder applied electrostatically. The finish yields a minimum average thickness of 1.0 to 1.8 mils and has a medium gloss. Abrasion resistance requires a minimum of 60 liters of sand to remove finish to bare metal, as determined by Library Technology test guidelines.

SEISMIC REQUIREMENTS:

The Weld Frame system is to conform to the particular standards of all seismic codes through the use of seismic sway bracing, floor anchoring, trapezoidal gussets, or any combination thereof.

1) UPRIGHT COLUMNS of the Weld Frame are formed of not less than #16 gauge steel into a channel shape with a total of 3/4" of stiffening flanges on the inside of the upright. Overall dimensions are 2 1/2" in the web and 1 1/4" across the front and rear area surfaces. Uprights are perforated the full height with a series of 1/4" x 5/8" slots spaced 1" on vertical centers and located within 5/16" of the outer web surface. Every fifth and sixth slot has square corners as viewed against the remaining rounded corner slots to aid visual alignment of shelves. This pattern is repeated over the full height of the upright.

2) TOP SPREADERS are formed of not less than #16 gauge tubular steel measuring 1"x 3" in cross section. The spreader is electrically welded to the uprights.

3) BOTTOM SPREADER of the Weld Frame is a channel shape measuring 1" x 1 3/4" in cross-section, and consists of not less than #16 gauge steel. The outer ends of the channel are punched to receive leveling nuts and floor levelers. The bottom channel is electrically welded to the uprights with the open face of the channel positioned upward. Weld Frames heights are as specified; widths are 36" standard. Weld Frames are equipped with two (2) adjustable floor levelers. Levelers can be provided with an optional elastomeric plastic shoe to prevent "walking" of units. Levelers are inverted mushroom type, with 3/4" hex head, 5/16 – 18 x 1 1/2" long, with groove on threaded end to allow adjustment from the top or bottom of leveler.

4) CLOSED BASE BRACKETS are designed to fit snugly in and around the welded frame upright. Material is no less than #16 gauge steel. Brackets have a 90-degree flange at the bottom to rest on the floor covering. Single faced base brackets are to be furnished with one adjustable threaded leveler per bracket and double-faced base brackets furnished with two adjustable threaded levelers. Levelers are inverted mushroom type, with 3/4" hex head, 5/16 – 18 x 1 1/2" long, with groove on threaded end to allow adjustment from the top or bottom of leveler. Top and front edge of the base bracket are flanged outward approximately 1/4". The profile of the bracket matches that of the adjustable shelf end bracket. The embossed area incorporates a hole to allow attaching of adjoining base brackets with a fastener.

5) CLOSED BASE SHELVES are formed from not less than #18 gauge steel into two piece construction with adjustable kickplate in black epoxy finish. Designed to fit snugly around base brackets with kickplate bolting to base brackets and adjustable to correct for floor irregularities. Front height is 3 5/16", and sides have stiffening flanges.

6) ADJUSTABLE SHELVES are formed of #18 gauge steel with the front and rear edges having a box-formed, 13/16" high profile capable of receiving wire book supports and snap-on label holders. The nominal depth of shelf is 1" greater than the actual dimension. The sides of the shelf are flanged for locking into end bracket lances. Shelves are capable of supporting 50 lbs. per linear foot without deflection in excess of 3/16".

7) SHELF END BRACKETS are formed of not less than #16 gauge steel, with all but the rear edge flared outward approximately 1/4". The rear edge has two crimped hooks at the top for engaging frame upright slots, and a positioning tab at the bottom to prevent accidental dislodgement. The bracket incorporates two lances with protruding dimples in the sides for securing shelf side flanges. Bracket design allows for shelf adjustment upward and downward (i.e. "walking-the-shelf") without disturbing any of the other shelves. Bracket emboss prevents overlapping of adjoining brackets. Brackets extend at least 6" above the shelf surface.

8) SLOPING PERIODICAL SHELVING is equipped with adjustable alternating display and storage shelves as follows: Flat storage shelves, when ordered, may be any standard size and are mounted on inverted brackets. Sloped display shelves are at least 12" actual height with a 1 5/16" flange at the bottom and boxed flanged upwards with inside safety hem. Brackets allow for a slope of approximately 30 degrees from vertical. Display shelves are equipped with rubber bumpers on support brackets for sound deadening, and will remain positively located without holding them open.

9) PIVOTING PERIODICAL SHELVING consists of pivoting display shelves hinged to shelf brackets, which engage in slots in upright. Sloped display shelves are 14" actual height with a 1 5/16" flange at the bottom and boxed flanged upwards with inside safety hem. Included storage shelf is 12" deep nominal. Brackets allow for a slope of approximately 20 degrees from vertical.

10) ONE PIECE DIVIDER TYPE SHELF is formed of no less than #18 gauge steel and resembles a standard adjustable storage shelf except for slots on 1" centers to receive dividers. An integral 5" high back piece with matching slots serves as a back for the shelf. Standard quantity and size of divider is five (5) per shelf with an overall height of 7' 7/16".

11) STEEL CANOPY TOPS are formed of no less than #19 gauge steel. Tops have a 13/16" front edge and extend the full width and depth of the unit base. Tops are supported by #14 gauge brackets engaged in slots in the frame uprights.

12) RECESSED KICKPLATES are of one-piece construction and are formed of not less than #20 gauge steel. The kickplate is 36" wide and 3" in height. The kickplate shall be painted black powder epoxy.

13) BASE FILLER CLOSURE are of one-piece construction and are formed of not less than #20 gauge steel. The closure is 2 1/2" Wide, and sized to fit the welded frame.

14) SLOPING SHELF END BRACKETS are formed of not less than #16 gauge steel, with all but the rear-edge flared outward approximately 1/4". The rear edge has two crimped hooks at the top for engaging the frame upright slots; and a positioning tab at the bottom to prevent accidental dislodgement. The bracket incorporates two lances with protruding dimples in the sides for securing the shelf side flanges. Bracket design allows for shelf adjustment upward and downward (i.e. "walking-the-shelf") without disturbing any of the other shelves. Bracket emboss prevents overlapment of adjoining brackets.
