

We've built our leadership position by delivering innovative technology supported by an award-winning service and support team. Our platforms, features and functions have continued to evolve and set the standard for the industry. Similarly, our commitment to being highly responsive and proactive in supporting our customers has pushed the overall market forward.

We are committed to the success of schools and school districts. Our goal is to foster the connection between the school and the home, and ultimately to support the success and safety of students. We look forward to serving Texas' leading school district.

Sincerely,

Johan Cerrato
